The Women's First Research Coalition (WFRC) strongly supports the introduction of the Endometriosis CARE Act by Representatives Nikema Williams (D-GA) and Lauren Underwood (D-IL). Endometriosis is one of the most common gynecological diseases, affecting 6.5 million women in the United States. Women can suffer up to a decade before being properly diagnosed. We applaud the legislation that would advance research on endometriosis and improve the public knowledge about endometriosis in order to improve the lives of women, and we urge Congress to pass this vital legislation.